

ROSWELL DAILY RECORD.

VOLUME 8.

ROSWELL, NEW MEXICO, WEDNESDAY EVENING, JUNE 22, 1910

NUMBER 94

SHERMAN AT UNVEILING

Syracuse, N. Y., June 21.—The orator of the day at the unveiling here today of the monument to the soldiers of the civil war was Vice-President James Sherman.

As he looked upon the fresh granite and newly modeled bronze of the impressive monument just unveiling, the Vice-President pronounced it to be a fitting recognition of the passionate patriotism which held together the states of the Union.

"This is but one form of testimonial to the Boys in Blue," said the Vice-President, "and its value and meaning are multiplied and intensified because there is not lacking other forms of expression of the people's gratitude to the Nation's preservers."

For the veterans still living, he pointed out that nearly half a hundred soldiers' homes offered care and comfort to nearly forty thousand maimed and infirm who have suffered from the wounds and hardships of war. A generous government with lavish hand had made provision, he said, to aid the living and help or succor the dear survivors of the hero head by pensions.

"Neither the monuments we dedicate," said he, "nor the soldier homes and pensions the nation provides is a charity. All are acknowledgements of just debts, the payment of sacred obligations. They are decorations, badges of heroism, more nobly earned than the ribbon of the French legion of Honor, or the garter of British Knighthood."

"The people of today have no fear of too generous treatment to the soldiers of the sixties. Their just merits are to be measured by the grandeur of the greatest, the most beautiful, the most perfect monument that could be raised to our soldiers," he said, "they themselves building in the Union they saved."

"With the Constitution as its corner stone, the States as its buttresses and its ornaments, law and order, inscribed on either side and wingless liberty sublime on its summit, awe and reverence dedicate it to these most worthy among mankind."

"All monuments, the Republic itself, point not alone to the past; they rest in the present and are prophets and teachers to the millions of sons and daughters, heirs of the priceless inheritance secured for them by the men of '61 to '65."

"Not by sloth and neglect can we lay claim to the great estate. Virtue, uprightness, self-sacrifice and devotion to the public weal, heroic purpose, practical effort for the purest and highest ideals must be the title deed to share in this precious patrimony. Who dare add a word to such oracles? Who dare venture a note in such anthem? Surely spirits of heroes rise from the dead to urge anew the appeals of their own lives that we all should walk in the path of patriotic duty and each do well his full share of the labor of mind and soul, and body to preserve and hand to posterity the legacy we have enjoyed."

SOUNDINGS FOR THE NEW ALLISON BUILDING.

T. E. Jewett, representing the architectural engineering firm of H. L. Stevens & Company, of Houston, Texas, arrived last night to take the soundings and secure data for the plans for the foundation for the new office building S. E. Allison will build at the corner of Main and Third streets this summer. Upon his arrival Mr. Jewett found that soundings had been made last week for the Federal building, in the same block and from Postmaster Rockefeller and others secured all the data he needs in making up his report, which will go to Frost & Frost, the El Paso architects who have the plans for the Allison building. Claud Allison, of this city, nephew of S. E. Allison, states that his uncle expects to have the work started on the new building in twenty or thirty days.

FREEMAN-BALLARD WEDDING NOT PRE-ARRANGED.

Wm. C. Freeman, better known as "Slip," came down from Clovis last night with the Clovis base ball team and will be here through the two day series. He brings details of the wedding in which he and Miss Mabel Ballard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Ballard of this city, were the principals. It was not a pre-arranged affair, as at first supposed; but was brought about on the spur of the moment, Slip states. He met the Ballard party at the station, and as the wait for the Helen out-of-train was an hour and fifteen minutes, took Miss Mabel up town for dinner. While at dinner they decided to marry and let Mrs. Freeman go on to California with her mother. Although the bride said nothing about the marriage, the groom made no effort to keep it secret. They had no trouble getting the license as, Miss Ballard told the recorder she was 18 years old. After dinner they had just 35 minutes in which to complete the ceremonies; but after being married and returning to the station, they found they still had ten minutes before train left for the west.

Mr. Freeman will go to California next month to meet and bring home his bride. They will live at Clovis. Mr. Freeman was formerly a pharmacist but is now claim agent for the railroad company at Clovis, and has a good position. He regrets that he married without getting the consent of the bride's parents, but says that on account of the way it came up, he had to do it; and that he would not hesitate to follow the same course if he had it to do over again. Freeman has made many friends in Roswell and all are extending the hand of congratulation today.

ARRANGING BIG FIGHT

Reno, Nev., June 22.—James J. Jeffries, accompanied by his training partners and a number of sporting men and newspaper correspondents, arrived in Reno from the Coast at ten o'clock this morning.

Rickard this morning received from Toronto, Canada, promoters what he declares to be "the most sensible offer for the fight yet made." They offer him $150,000 guaranteed for the fight on July 4th, freedom from police or other interference, fares on all railroads, a traveling allowance of $2,000 for the fighters.

After reading the bid and passing it to the newspaper men, Rickard placed the telegram in his pocket.

Rickard positively asserts there is no possibility of promoter Sid Hester staging the Langford-Ketchel fight in the Jeffries-Johnson arena prior to the big fight. The best offer he can make is the day after the big battle Hester declares that if Rickard does not relent before night he will return to San Francisco.

SENATE INCREASES PUBLIC BUILDING BILL $4,000,000.

Washington, June 22.—After considering the omnibus public buildings bill an hour and twenty minutes today, the senate passed the measure as reported from committee. It carries $25,588,500, an increase of more than four millions over the total as it passed the House.

The measure contains authorizations for every state in the union.

Millers of the Nation.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 22.—As the center of the flour milling industry of the world, Minneapolis today welcomed the millers from other cities of the United States and Canada who are here to participate in the first session of the Millers' National Federation held in the Flour City in a score of years. The gathering is the largest in attendance and the most important in the history of the federation. The subject of "bleached flour" will doubtless receive the attention of the delegates. It is asserted that the public taste demands bleached flour and that all attempts to induce the use of the more nutritious whole wheat flour have failed miserably.

Minnesota Bankers Meet.

St. Paul, Minn., June 22.—Minnesota bankers in large numbers were present when the annual state convention was called to order here today. Many financial topics of national importance will be discussed at the sessions, which will be continued tomorrow.

Good Roads Convention.

Fargo, N. D., June 22.—To make the highways of North Dakota second to none in the country is the object of a good roads convention opened here today. Various commercial and municipal bodies, the American Society of Equity and other agricultural and development societies are giving their influence to the movement.

Mrs. Goodsell, who was taken to a New York hospital for a serious operation, has been dangerously ill.

Nine days after the first operation it was decided that another one was necessary to relieve the conditions then prevailing. From the last report it is learned that she is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

JUDSON HARMON OF OHIO.

OHIO NOMINATES HARMON; KEY-NOTE FOR DEMOCRATS

Dayton, Ohio, June 22.—The Ohio Democratic State Convention today renominated Judson Harmon for governor by acclamation, passed a resolution endorsing him as a candidate for president in 1912 and voted down the proposition to endorse a candidate for United States senator.

The latter idea was endorsed by W. J. Bryan and the Cleveland delegation fought in favor of it, but Harmon opposed it, and the convention, which was strongly for Harmon, as evidenced by the honors heaped upon him, voted against the Bryan idea.

The convention adopted a platform which is in substance as follows:

Dayton, Ohio, June 22.—The platform adopted by the Democratic state convention calls attention to the prosecution of "grafters" by the present governor for the return to the state of thousands secured by fraud and wrongdoing, and declares the governor is handicapped by the opposition of a hostile legislature and Republican state officials. Favors the safeguarding of franchises as well as the regulation of all public utilities; favors the ratification of the income tax amendment to the Federal Constitution; demands the election of United States senators by the direct vote of the people, favors legislation limiting the hours of women workers; demands the revision of the "present unjust and oppressive tariff," reducing the rates so as to lower the prices imposed on the consumers. "The need of revenue for an economical conduct of the government must be the guiding principle instead of the demands of the favored interests." Expresses belief in the conservation of natural resources, and denounces the administration, especially Ballinger, "for dismissing from the public service tried and true officers whose only aim was the preservation to the people of such resources."

CONGRESS FACING A LABOR UNION QUESTION.

Washington, June 22.—Congress is facing the question of whether or not union labor will be exempt from prosecution under the Sherman anti-trust law.

The conferees on the sundry civil bill have the question under consideration today. The House by a decisive vote insisted upon the exemption, which was sharply opposed by the senate.

SPICER-FUGATE TRIAL SET FOR THURSDAY.

Jackson, Ky., June 22.—The examining trial in the Spicer-Fugate case has been set for Thursday. Many of the members of the rival families are here and a critical situation is expected when the case is called.

Dema Johnson was disappeared after Monday's affray at Jetts' Creek, in which John Fugate was killed and his mother wounded, was arrested today, charged with complicity in the shooting.

With her was captured Asbury Spicer's 18 year old son, whom it is alleged assisted his father in the fight with the Fugate family.

The Johnson woman is a sister of Elsie Johnson, who is in jail charged with murdering Miles Crawford last week.

WHAT CONGRESS HAS FAILED IN DOING.

Washington, June 22.—Congress is closing without having permitted a Congressional investigation of the sugar trust.

More than twenty bills and resolutions providing for probes of the sugar trust were smothered in committee.

The failure of Congress to permit the bringing out of the facts in connection with the misdeeds of this great law defying corporation is largely due to the position taken by President Taft.

President Taft, in two messages to Congress urged that the trust be not investigated. Yet no harm could come to the sugar trust through an investigation unless an inquiry showed that it had violated the law.

Attorney General Wickersham also deserves credit for side-tracking the proposed investigation. Mr. Wickersham opposed the idea because of fear that the sugar trust magnates might secure "immunity" through a Congressional probe. Yet the sugar trust magnates are in reality receiving this immunity because of the failure of Congress to investigate.

Before the public proceeds to forget about Congress and the sugar trust, it ought to make a mental note of this fact:

That Mr. Wickersham, together with Henry W. Taft, the President's brother was formerly a member of the law firm of Strong & Cadwallader. This is a New York firm which makes it a business to show big corporations how to protect themselves.

Taft for legal services rendered the sugar trust Henry W. Taft received $26,750, which he turned over to the firm of Strong & Cadwallader.

That just before accepting a cabinet position under President Taft Mr. Wickersham received his share of the sugar trust fee.

That the sugar trust is an old friend and ally of the Republican party, and has in James G. Thompson contributed millions to the Republican campaign fund.

REGULAR AIR SHIP LINE

Dusseldorf, Germany, June 22.—The first regular airship passenger service was inaugurated today when Count Zeppelin's great craft, the Deutschland, carrying twenty passengers, successfully made the first scheduled trip from Friedrichshafen to this city, 500 miles in nine hours.

The weather was perfect and the motors worked faultlessly. Count Zeppelin steered for the greater part of the distance.

Regular trips will be made and many tickets have been sold. The airship is equipped with a restaurant.

TEACHERS' ENROLLMENT HAS REACHED SIXTY-ONE.

The Chaves County Teachers' Institute is progressing nicely, with an increased enrollment that puts it on an equal footing with last year when the corps of the Roswell city schools was in attendance. The total number is now 61 and last year the total number was 65. The regular teachers of the Roswell system are not attending this year, with one or two exceptions, as the new rules do not require it.
